AFRICA

Rwanda:

Government Withdraws to Zairian Border

The interim government yesterday abandoned its temporary headquarters at Gitarama and fled to the Hutu stronghold of Gisenyi. Hutu President Sindikubwabo says he is unwilling to resign but would share power with the RPF. [ ] says that fighting remains fierce in Kigali and that the slaughter of Tutsis is accelerating.

From Gisenyi the government will have better access to arms shipments through the Zairian town of Goma. The government radio has begun accusing the UN of siding with the RPF, a charge that increases risk to UN troops. [ ]

OAU:

Summit To Discuss Rwanda, Conflict Resolution

[ ] conferees at the OAU summit that opens today in Tunis will try to firm up African offers of troops for an expanded UN presence in Rwanda and to find ways to stop the killing, get a cease-fire, and resume peace talks. They also will consider proposals to strengthen the conflict resolution mechanism set up by the last OAU summit.

— [ ] OAU members showed resolve at a ministerial-level meeting last week by extending for six months the mandate of the OAU military observer mission in Burundi.

— They will also try to pressure Liberia's factions to cease obstructing the peace process; the UN will review progress at the end of the month, and press reports say several Africans are threatening to pull troops out. [ ]

Tunisian President Ben Ali, the OAU chairman for the coming year, has focused primarily on the Arab world and will be challenged to deal with African issues. He has invited Israel to observe the summit and seeks to moderate the OAU's stance toward Israel. [ ]
